Home

Your daily lessons appear in Today's Learning, delivered in a set priority order so the right content always comes first.

Prioritized Enrollments

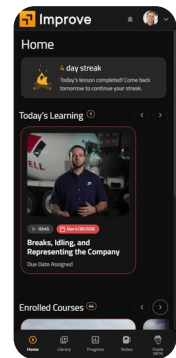

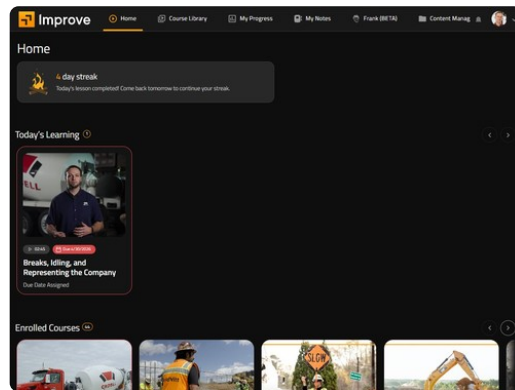

Admin-assigned courses surface one lesson per day until complete — no overdues pile up.

Self-Enrolled

Employees browse the Course Library and enroll themselves — lessons drip in after prioritized content.

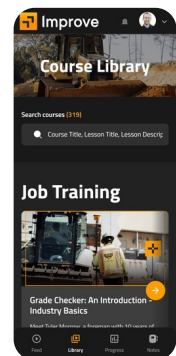

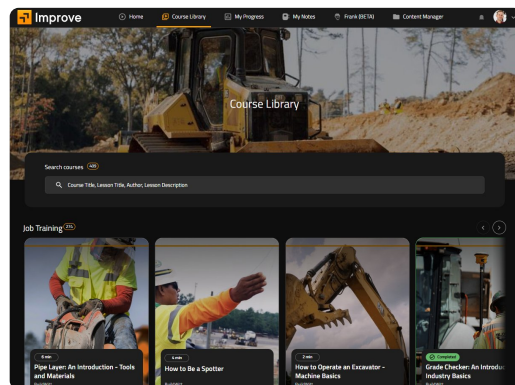

Auto-Enrolled

Supporting content that keeps your team in the app daily after the tiers above are addressed.

Course Library

Explore 2,000+ videos in the course library. You can see what topics are covered in each course and find some videos that you're interested in that haven't shown up on your feed yet.

+ My Notes

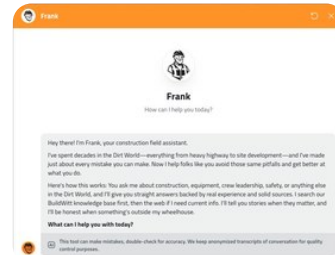

Want to come back to a certain moment in a video to get more clarity or to remember something important you learned? You can timestamp your videos and write yourself private notes to come back to later.

+ Frank

Frank is your AI field assistant built into BuildWitt Improve — ask him anything on the job and he'll give you a straight answer fast, backed by BuildWitt's full content library. Find him in the app anytime.

Note: Frank keeps anonymized conversation transcripts for quality control — like a black box on a piece of equipment. No names, no personal info.

+ Tips and Tricks

Start with one video per day

Videos in your feed will be labeled "Overdue" if you get behind, so you can start catching up. If you're consistent you'll hit a "streak" and your manager can see it, too!

Discuss what you've learned

It's not easy to be the first one to speak up, but it's worth it. Discussing what you learn is known to help you remember it, plus it's a great way for a team to share knowledge.

Ask that question

There are no stupid questions. Unsure about overdue lessons, how something works, or have questions about the content on your feed? Talk to your manager.
